What we do

We fix the PDFs public agencies already post, so people using screen readers can read and complete them, and we return them looking the same as the originals. The DOJ's ADA Title II web rule requires WCAG 2.1 AA for posted documents by April 26, 2027 for entities of 50,000 or more, and April 26, 2028 for smaller entities and special districts. HHS's Section 504 rule sets May 11, 2027 for HHS-funded organizations with 15 or more employees.

Documents we handle

- Fillable forms and applications: every field given a spoken label
- Scanned documents: a readable text layer, structure and fillable fields
- Agendas and agenda packets: real headings, reading order, image descriptions
- Reports, fee schedules, notices, handbooks; English and Spanish

What every file comes back with

- The same look: layout and wording unchanged
- Tags, reading order, a title and a language
- Text alternatives for images and charts
- A PDF/UA-1 report from veraPDF, the free validator from the PDF Association, which your team can rerun

How we work

AI and automation do most of the tagging, which keeps turnaround fast. Each file is then reviewed against the printed page, compared with the original to confirm nothing visible changed, and validated with veraPDF before delivery. Standard turnaround is two business days per batch.

We work only on public documents and blank forms, never on records containing personal information.

Pricing

- Free inventory: a spreadsheet of the PDFs on your site, which fail, which are forms still in use, and what to fix first, plus one document fixed
- Starter: your 10 most-used forms in one week, $500
- Backlog: $4 per text page, $6 complex, $8 scanned; fillable forms $40 each up to 2 pages
- Partners (ADA consultants, web and agenda vendors): 15% off, under your name or ours
